PRINCIPLES, PROPOSITIONS & DISCUSSIONS
FOR LAND & FREEDOM

version # 5 (October 2006)

From the 18th century, anarchism evolved as a way of working towards freedom and happiness. A combination of things has covered much of these ideas with the dust of history.

The anarchist archive 'Anarchy is Order' is one of the attempts to make the original resources available.

On the CD you find some 350 MB of texts (lay-outed and not), photographs, web-adresses and some stuff to go to work yourself (publishing - distributing). Also some tools for anarchist practice

Let's bring anarchism to life. So that values like freedom, solidarity and direct action get new meaning, are lived again and the battle continues against the 'demons of flesh and blood, that sway scepters down here; and the dirty microbes that send us dark diseases and wish to squash us like horseflies; and the will-'o-the-wisp of the saddest ignorance'. (L-P. Boon)

An anarchist mission statement:

“We try to grow into individual and social ‘defence’ and ‘attack’ against injustice (sexism, racism, war, exploitation, unfreedom, ...) and the systems of power over others in general.

Social defence is the response of solidary individuals and communities to undesired events in the outside world as disaster, military coup, financial market crashes, war, AIDS,...

Attack means taking the initiative: we want another world and we are the ones to make it. (Why don’t we set a date to it?)

We will make it acting on principles as freedom/autonomy/anti-authoritarianism, solidarity, direct action.

In a world like ours, it’s important to know which side you’re trying to be on, without needing a promised utopia, a Kingdom Come. Anarchism is an ongoing process, never a standstill.”

Anarchism depends as much on you as it depends on us. Don’t mourn, Organise!

Comments, questions, criticism,... can be sent to a.o@advalvas.be.

A complete list and updates are available on this address, new texts are always welcome!!

But beware. As much as we value our project and your participation in it, you don’t become an anarchist by knowing the right words. As William Blake put it: ‘I must Create a System or be enslav’d by another Man’s.. I will not Reason & Compare: my business is to Create’.

What you can do:

- *buy ready-made booklets and brochures from us
- *use the CD to become your own publisher
- *use the CD to publish and spread the booklets
- *copy the CD so others may do the same
- *send us new texts or improved versions of the ones we use
- *read, practice and discuss, role-play; comment on our mission statement or other content (we could even start a newsletter)
- *federate, organise, activate, illuminate, liberate and survive...
